

God's Simple Solution to Religious Confusion

And if it's God's solution, it's the ONLY solution.

Crispus (Acts 18)

- Crispus became a Christian, and in so doing became a member of THE church, the ONE church Jesus promised to build.
- Crispus joined a local organized church, of which there were many.
- Assuming Crispus remained faithful, whenever that local church assembled, he was “in church.”

And so it's really pretty simple...

- Like Crispus, you need to become a Christian—be saved from your sins, and in so doing become a member of the ONE church Jesus built (composed of all the saved).
- Like Crispus, you need to join a local church, one without any denominational ties, one which follows only the teachings of Christ and intends to keep it that way.
- Like Crispus and other Christians in Corinth, whenever this local church assembles or “comes together in one place,” you need to be present, or “in church.”
